Section I.c Enrollment

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Effective in Fall 2013, a 10-clock hour field experience with ELL students was added to the course, EDRD 423/523: Integrating Literacy in the Content Areas, which is required for all candidates seeking initial teacher certification.

Effective in Fall 2014, MBU began offering a new course required for all candidates seeking initial teacher certification, EDUC 203: Teaching in a Diverse Society, which includes a 15-clock hour field experience with diverse student populations and educational settings.

A large percentage of Missouri Baptist University's students also come from low income, rural areas outside of the St. Louis area. Therefore, many of the candidates also have the opportunity for additional field experience or student teaching in these areas.

All education courses include objectives related to improving candidate proficiencies for working with diverse students and an assessment component to determine the diversity objectives are being met.

Section IV Low-Performing

Provide the following information about the approval or accreditation of your teacher preparation program.

Is your teacher preparation program currently approved or accredited?

Yes

If yes, please specify the organization(s) that approved or accredited your program:

State
NCATE

Is your teacher preparation program currently under a designation as "low-performing" by the state (as per section 207(a) of the HEA of 2008)?

No

Section V Use of Technology

Provide the following information about the use of technology in your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request.

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction
Yes
- use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning
Yes
- use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning
Yes
- use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence that your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

All teacher certification candidates take a course (EDUC 373: Technology and Instructional Media for undergraduate students, and EDUC 573: Applications of Technology as an Effective Tool in Teaching and Learning for post-baccalaureate students) that exposes them to a variety of technologies that enhance teaching and learning when used effectively. Candidates learn to identify and integrate various technologies to enhance teacher productivity and professional practice and apply the technologies in the curriculum and instruction to enhance learning experiences for diverse students. Students create lesson plans and units that integrate technology into the teaching and learning that takes place.

Various courses require students to examine and analyze data from the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) web site in an effort to improve teaching and learning. MBU participated in the Missouri Pre-Service Teacher Assessment (MoPTA), which was first piloted for teacher candidates during their student teaching semester in Fall 2013. This performance-based assessment requires candidates to collect and analyze data to determine the candidate's impact on learning for their students. MBU added course objectives/assignments to the Field Experience I and II and Professional Growth and Development I and II courses starting in 2014-2015 to prepare students for the final assessment which occurs during student teaching. Statewide implementation of the MoPTA was delayed for one year, but MBU continued to "pilot" Tasks 1-3 of the assessment with all candidates seeking initial teacher certification during the 2014-2015 school year. Successful completion of the MoPTA is expected to become a certification requirement for all candidates seeking initial teacher certification in the state of Missouri starting in Fall 2015.

MBU also offers a Master's degree in Educational Technology.

Section VI Teacher Training

Provide the following information about your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request.

Does your program prepare general education teachers to:

- teach students with disabilities effectively
Yes
- participate as a member of individualized education program teams
Yes
- teach students who are limited English proficient effectively
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares general education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

Teacher Education candidates receive instruction on how to effectively teach students who are limited in English proficiency in courses such as EDRD 423/523: Integration of Literacy in the Content Areas, ELED 453/553: Integrated Language Arts Concepts for PK-6, and EDRD 443/543: Analysis and Correction of Reading Disorders, in addition to various courses in the Special Education program. Effective Fall 2013, a 10-clock hour field experience with ELL students was added to EDRD 423/523: Integration of Literacy in the Content Area specifically to observe and work with students who are limited in English proficiency. This course/field experience is required of all students seeking initial teacher certification.

In addition, every teacher candidate is introduced to IEPs in EDPS 453/553: The Exceptional Child and gains further exposure in other courses throughout the curriculum. The Education Division faculty created an internal curriculum matrix to identify comprehensive coverage of the entire IEP process and revised course objectives/assignments of professional education coursework to reflect this process.

Missouri Baptist University teaches all pre-service teachers about the MTSS process for connecting students with interventions and using monitoring procedures to measure student growth. Content regarding evidence-based practices with MTSS is purposefully integrated into several literacy courses taken by candidates in general education and special education programs. In addition, candidates learn about behavior/classroom management needs of children with special needs, including characteristics of children with special needs, instructional needs, structures/routines, behavioral contracts, behavior modification, ABA analysis, PBS, and behavioral expectations.

Does your program prepare special education teachers to:

- teach students with disabilities effectively
Yes
- participate as a member of individualized education program teams
Yes
- teach students who are limited English proficient effectively
Yes

Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares special education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

Students at Missouri Baptist University complete required coursework in special education that involves interpreting test results, writing objectives, and creating IEP: reading, interpreting, and implementing IEPs; participating in simulated IEP Meetings and Response to Intervention Meetings; and actually attending IEP meetings during practicum experience and Student Teaching. The Education Division faculty created an internal curriculum matrix to identify comprehensive coverage of the entire IEP process and revised course objectives/assignments of professional education coursework to reflect this process.

Missouri Baptist University teaches all pre-service teachers about the MTSS process for connecting students with interventions and using monitoring procedures to measure student growth. In addition, candidates learn about behavior/classroom management needs of children with special needs, including characteristics of children with special needs, instructional needs, structures/routines, behavioral contracts, behavior modification, ABA analysis, PBS, and behavioral expectations.

Testing of students who have limited English is addressed in required coursework and methods of teaching these students is covered in additional courses. Effective Fall 2013, a 10-clock hour field experience with ELL students was added to EDRD 423/523: Integration of Literacy in the Content Area specifically to observe and work with students who are limited in English proficiency. This course/field experience is required of all students seeking initial teacher certification.
